PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

Best of Speakers Secured For Sunday School Meeting Here

WILL LAST TWO DAYS

Children's Parade Thursday Morning, June 19 to Virtually Open Affair

Announcement was made today by the executive committee of the Washington County Sunday School Association through its field secretary, Mrs. Mary L. Stewart of the program for the county convention to be held in Charleroi June 20 and 21. Not only speakers of State, but also of national and international reputation are on the program. The word has gone out over Washington county that the convention will be the best and the biggest ever held, and the largest number of delegates that ever attended a previous convention is expected to be on hand. They will register at the First Christian church, while arrangements are being made by the county officers for the program to start.

Thursday morning's program will begin with the children's parade at 9:45 o'clock. Dr. J. W. Manon will be the chief marshal for this event. Mrs. C. C. Wright to work with him. Children of all ages to the number of 1,000 or more are expected to be in line. Rev. L. O. Brown, of Franklin will give a talk to the children following the parade. Convention business will be taken up and a social half hour held after 11:15.

Thursday afternoon an opening song service will be conducted by Prof. I. T. Daniel, of Charleroi and the address of welcome made by Burgess George W. Risbeck, or some person selected by him on behalf of the "Magic City," and Rev. J. E. Charles, pastor of the French Presbyterian church will make an address of welcome on behalf of the churches of Charleroi. The response will be by Rev. W. P. Aiken, of Canonsburg. Speakers Thursday afternoon will be Rev. J. B. Cavitt, of McDonald, W. D. Stem, a noted State Sunday school worker, and Rev. W. B. Smiley, D. D. of McKeesport. A teacher's training conference will be conducted by Rev. H. M. Evans, an organized Adult Bible class conference will be conducted by Wilhelm F. Alten, of Monongahela, the former at the convention tent and the latter at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church.

Two addresses will be made Thursday evening, in addition to the song and devotional services. These addresses will be made by W. D. Stem and Rev. C. L. E. Cartright, Ph. D., a Methodist Episcopal minister of Pittsburgh, with whom many Charleroi people are acquainted.

Friday morning's session will begin with a sunrise prayer meeting at 6 o'clock, and at 8:30 simultaneous conferences of the elementary division, the foreign work department, and the home department will be held. A business session will be held at the convention tent later in the morning, when reports will be heard. An elementary luncheon will also be

Burgess Asks More Salary

Chief Executive of Bentleyville Wants $150 Per Year Instead of $50

The Bentleyville council has taken action in the matter of the salary of the burgess but does not entirely coincide with the views of that official in regard to the matter.

Burgess William Johnson has been receiving $50 a year for his work. Recently he looked up the law and came to the conclusion that in view of the population of Bentleyville he should be receiving $150 a year. He presented to council a bill for last year at the rate of $150 and a bill for a similar amount this year. The Council has decided that he can have but $50 for last year but will pay him $150 annually hereafter.

BRIGADE CAMPS AT CONNEAUT

Members of Washington Avenue Brigade at Camp Wallgren

ENFORCE DAILY DRILLS

The thirty odd members of Company E, Washington Avenue Boys Brigade, in camp on the shores of Conneaut Lake, are having the time of their lives. Under Capt. Wallgren they are enforcing military rule, but this proved rather a pleasant rule, and in addition regulates discipline. The camp has been designated by the boys as Camp Wallgren, after their commanding officer's name.

Capt. Wallgren states in a card to the Mail that camp was opened according to arrangements the forepart of the week. Drills are held at 10 o'clock and 3 o'clock daily. Early guard mounts at 9 o'clock every morning. Capt. Wallgren states that everybody is well. The messes are held at 7 o'clock, 12 o'clock and 6 o'clock.

To Observe Flag Day.

Donora Lodge, No. 1265, B. P. O. Elks will hold their first annual Flag Day exercises in the Lodge room Friday evening, June 14 at 8:15. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. E. K. Bender of Allegheny Lodge No. 339.

Sold Charleroi Property.

Laura L. Glover of Charleroi has sold to Charles F. Reed a lot in Charleroi fronting 40 feet on Oakland avenue. The consideration was $160.

BUFEALO BILL AND PAWNEE BILL HERE WITH UNITED SHOWS

Big Aggregation With Wonders of Far East and Inspiring Scenes of Wild West Arrives For Two Performances

Buffalo Bill is here with his great Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East. The mammoth exhibition reached Charleroi from Butler early this morning and was at once transferred to the show grounds for the afternoon and evening performances to be given today at 2 and 8 p. m.

The approaching closing of the career of Col. W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," as an active participant in arctic work today marks his final appearance here. This does not mean the shelving of the intensely interesting story of the "Conquest of a Continent," in which the episodes and the characters of the last few decades of picturesque frontier days are presented in the Wild West section of the exhibition.

In these conjoined fields of study, extending around the world, Col. Cody will continue in managerial direction in common action and supervision with his younger co-adjutor, Maj. Gordon W. Lillie, "Pawnee Bill."

The spectators' attention is called to the fact that every known seat in the saddle from the Indian barebacks to every class and kind known to equestrianism, from the wild horse, or "bucker," of the plains to the most finished style of trained horse or the high hurdle jumping thoroughbred is presented.

The new spectacle entitled "Pioneer Events in Frontier Days" opens with a typical overland wagon train winding its way down the mountains, with pioneers, their wives, children, saddle, horses, mules, oxen, hogs, and other paraphernalia to begin life in the wilderness. Indians are seen tracking them, and when they have corralled the stock and settled for the night they are attacked; a fierce fight takes place, the wagons set on fire, the pioneers making a desperate resistance, when temporary help comes from the stage coach. In a second they have unhitched their horses, turned them loose and the fight takes on fresh vigor. The Express rider en route sights the trouble, puts spurs to his pony and turns back to the relay stations with the news. A party of plainsmen and detachment of frontier soldiers fly to the rescue of the besieged and the surveying Indians dash for cover and safety, concluding a wordless drama of the strongest vital and compelling action seen in years. While the subject has been seen before in its new scenic investiture and presentation, it is unfamiliar enough to be new.

There are sword exercises and drills by the different tribes and races; who also take part in the general military tournament.

The whirling dervishes are especially trained, religious devotees selected for their efficiency in the most amazing gyrations revolving with such speed that their semblance to man is lost sight of and they seem like a collection of huge white spinning tops. Gruber's Animals, The Van Fizz Blue Ribbon Grays, a corps of Japanese Equilibrists, and Cingalese dancers, Arabian Acrobats and East Indian Necromancers are new European importations.

A large crowd is witnessing this afternoon's performance. Tonight's exhibition will commence at 8 p. m. sharp.

FAST EXPRESS SAVED THROUGH BEING LATE

Down River Train Has Narrow Escape-Fireman of Southbound Passenger Train Finds Big Fish Plate on the Track

Only through the intervention of a kind Providence was a serious railroad wreck prevented at Dunlevy Friday, that might have resulted in the death of a large number. At Dunlevy a big fish plate of iron was found on the northbound track by the firemen of train No. 154, which passed through Charleroi at about its usual time, 12:32. It so happened that the down river train was running ten minutes late, this fact alone saving it from a serious wreck.

When the fireman of the southbound train discovered the big fish plate on the track of the northbound train, the train was stopped long enough to notify the telegraph operator at the tower near Dunlevy.

He stopped the northbound train, until after the fish plate had been removed. It was so arranged that it would probably have derailed the entire northbound train, which is one of the fastest trains on the Monongahela division.

Had the northbound train been running on time, it would have reached the point before the southbound train had passed. The inevitable can be imagined. The two trains usually pass at Belle Vernon or near there. The fast northbound train comes through Dunlevy at a particularly good rate of speed.

Lieutenant W. J. Davis and his police squad of this division are making an investigation.

CONTRACT AWARDED TO BUILD SCHOOL

The contract for the building of the new Granville school building near California was awarded last week to John R. Powell's Sons, contractors of California. Many bids have been received covering a considerable range, but the California company with a bid of $11,849 was well below the nearest competitor.

REPRODUCE FRENCH PLAY AT NORMAL

The French class of the Normal and alumni members composing the Graduate French Club of the California Normal school will give their annual play on the Normal campus this evening at 7:30. This year Victor Hugo's tragedy, "Hernani" will be the production. About forty characters will be represented. Helen Proelochs is stage manager.

PARADE AIDES ARE SELECTED

Capt. John K. Hein, who has been appointed chief marshal for the men's parade to take place as one of the chief features of the Washington County Sunday School convention to be held in Charleroi June 20 and 21, has selected his parade aides and appointed them to their duties. The parade officials will be as follows: Capt. J. K. Hein, chief marshal; Dr. Edwin McKay, chief lieutenant; Charles Wallgren, standard bearer; aides, R. Dale Jolliffe, C. S. McKean, Henry Acker, Charles O. Frye.

Miss Leila Taylor spent this morning in Donora.

NUMEROUS CASES ON FOR TRIAL

Common Pleas Calendar Contains Much Work for Court

WILL CONTINUE SOME

The indications are that a large number of cases listed for this term of common pleas court at Washington will have to be continued to the November term. The case listed for Monday of this week are not yet entirely disposed of. Some have been continued or settled, and some are yet to be tried. For the coming week there remain about 23 cases, so that it will be impossible to clear up the list this term.

Cases not reached on this week's trial list will be carried over until next week, and those not reached next week will go over to the November term. It is not likely that cases will be carried over into the fourth week, as that would encroach on argument and equity court. There is not much time now until the annual bar vacation. There is no August term of common pleas court, so that cases continued this term go over until November.

North Charleroi Voters to Decide $14,000 Proposal

PURPOSES OUTLINED

Major Portion of Amount to be Used in Wiping Out Floating Indebtedness.

Next Tuesday will be an eventful date in North Charleroi history. Then the voters of the borough will vote on the question of an increase of indebtedness for the borough to the extent of $14,000. Ballots are now being printed for the election, and will be delivered together with a new metal ballot box to be used.

The increase of indebtedness proposed by the borough is for the purpose of funding the present floating indebtedness in the sum of $10,000 and grading, paving, curbing and sewerage with the borough to the extent of $4,000.

The amount of taxable property at the last assessment was $385,225. The present debt of the borough is $22,000. That includes the present total bonded indebtedness of $12,000 and $10,000 of a floating indebtedness.

It is claimed that the borough North Charleroi is much in need street improvement that will include grading, paving, curbing and sewerage. For this purpose of the bond issue carries the $4,000 will be set aside.

There seems to be a favorable sentiment to the bond issue and those who have been working in its interests believe it will pass.

PRODUCTION MARKS EPOCH

Dante's Inferno New Departure in the Moving Picture World

The flaming of "Dante's Inferno" marks a new epoch in moving pictures in more respects than one. The great film which is to be presented at the Coyle Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week will be a revelation to those who witness it. Only those who are familiar with the poem can appreciate the seemingly insurmountable obstacles which met the maker ambitious enough to render this great creation into moving pictures. From the first canto to the last one is struck by the startling realism of each foot of film. Take for example the first canto. The wandering of the plot through the dark and gloomy forest, his adventures with the wild beasts, his repeated attempts to ascend the hill of salvation, the flight from the famished wolf, the descent of Beatrice from the realm of the blessed into the limbo of Virgil, the pious poet of pagan antiquity, are rendered with such a fascinating power that one loses sight of the fact that he is watching a picture and not realities. The wonder grows as the pictures progress.

CONSERVING THE PUBLIC.

One of the crying economic necessities of the day is that of conserving the public, stopping the inordinate drain upon society in general
for the promotion and maintenance of the various schemes and projects in which individuals, societies, fraternities and even churches are interested. We have had much agitation and something of a movement for the conservation of public resources, such as the preservation of the forests, the water privileges, the mineral deposits and various other things, but the conservation of the public
itself from being continually bled
has never yet apparently been considered as a public necessity.

The one thing needful seems to be a movement whereby the polite system of brigandage that is now so universally practiced in every community will be abolished. Contributing to every project of a semi-public nature that is held or promoted has other precious effects besides a waste of private resources. Valuable time is lost in vapid entertainments, rest and pleasure is abandoned and the real joy of living is never attained.
Why should every individual be expected to contribute to a project in which he has no interest or part? Nothing is gained by calling upon outsiders for such aid, as the recipients must suffer the same polite blackmail in turn later on. The whole practice is in effect a beggarone—asking for a contribution with
the tacit understanding that a return contribution will be given for the one solicited, and which is invariably exacted. It is like the creating evil, where one gets about as much as he gives, with a surfeit most of the time of what he doesn't want.

When each member of society

learns to respect the rights of his neighbor and does not try to hold
him up to help pay for personal interests and each pays for what he wants and is interested in, a great saving of private and personal resources will have been effected. This will be a benefit to the public, inasmuch as it benefits society individually.

THE PROMISE OF REST.

As a rule the people of America
take less rest than any other people
under the sun, says the New York Independent. More's the pity, for rest not only adds to the pleasure of living and generates energy, but it prolongs life. Almost everybody in this country is forever in a rush and in a hurry. Charles Dickens said that Americans go to dinner at the same gaunt at which other people travel to a fire.

The promise of rest runs through the Bible like a thread of gold. The first time the word "rest" occurs in the Bible is in the second verse of the second chapter of Genesis:

"And on the seventh day God ended his work which He had made: and He rested on the seventh day from all his work which He had made.
And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it He had rested from all His work which God created and made."

And from that passage to almost
the last verse of the Book of Revelation the word "rest" is constantly occurring. The twenty-third is the most beautiful of all the psalms of David. The most beautiful verse in
that psalm is the second:

"He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters."

Of all the promises which the Savior made in his sermons and conversations one of the most forcible
was the one contained in the twenty-eighth verse of the eleventh chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew:

"Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give
you rest."

"He follows that up with another promise in the twenty-ninth verse of
the same chapter:

"And ye shall find rest unto your souls."

It is really a great pity that everybody cannot rest periodically. They would last longer and accomplish
more and would derive more pleasure out of existence. Most people rest on the Christian Sunday, or Lord's day, which has taken the place among Christians of the Jewish Sabbath,
but few even reflect that the seventh
day of rest is founded upon a great philosophical principle.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Buffalo Bill's" appearance here today is perhaps the last appearance
in the wild west business of one who participated in actual Indian warfare on the plains, and who hunted and shot buffaloes by hundreds when these vast herds roamed the prairie,"
said a middle aged valley resident
this morning. "I was born in England, but I came to the northern part of this state with my parents, who emigrated to this country when I was 10 years old. That was 40 years ago, and some of the scenes depicted by Buffalo Bill's show were then being enacted in the west."

"I remember with amusement how
my brother got carried away with the stirring adventures in the blood
and thunder literature of that day,
in the Beadle and Munroe Dime Novels, which constituted the cheap reading matter of that time. Fresh from England, where there was no thing of the kind, my brother used to pour over the novels he bought by the light of the oil lamp as we sat around the table of an evening. He would get so excited that oft-time he would clench his hands and make gestures, in a strong state of mental excitement."

"My father, a Yorkshireman who
never did master the art of using H's properly, as he sat smoking his pipe in the family circle, would bring my brother back to earth with
the terse remark:

"'Wot the bloody 'ell you thing-
ing of now?'"

"I never see moving pictures of Indian shows or wild west exhibitions without thinking of my older brother's early infatuation and how
my father used to ruthlessly quash
his youthful aspirations in that line."

"One of the annoyances of a person in business is the everlasting touch of borrowers, who are in reality out and out panhandlers," said
a Charleroi business man. "The touches are usually from persons you know, who deal at your place of business occasionally, and for that reason think they have you dead to rights when they ask you for a loan,
or contribution, rather, for it is never paid back. Men and youths drop in between pay days and ask for the loan of a dollar, a half, or a quarter.
If you refuse, they will flare up and tell you that they always did their buying at your store, and declare they'll never return. I've lost hundreds of dollars in that way during the 20 years or more I've been in business in Charleroi. I used to be easy, but now I'm through. The loss of a panhandler's trade I figure, will not recompense one for all the touches you get, if once you let such a patron get in on you."

"Not long ago a man came in who buys some things occasionally at my store and declared he was starving—
was actually in need of something to eat. I saw at once that he was just getting over a 'bat' and wanted
a drink."

"All right," I said, "come with me.
I was just starting for the restaurant myself when you came in. Come along, and I'll get you something to
eat."

"The man demurred, but could not well refuse, so I steered him to a lunch counter and ordered a couple of bowls of soup. It was like so much medicine to him, and he worked
it down laboriously, a spoonful at a time. He wanted a drink so badly that he could not eat."

"Have another," said I as he finally emptied his bowl, but he declined, saying that he was not really so hungry as he thought he was, and that he was not feeling well. I really enjoyed his discomfiture, as he had struck me before."

"Only a day or two ago a neighbor was approached by a man who requested the loan of a dollar."

"'Funny isn't it?'" said the neighbor. "I was just going to ask you to lend me two dollars, when I saw you coming. Queer thing that we both should be broke at once."

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOOD

Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some derangement have been denied this blessing.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

who desire to have children in their

BETTER THAN SPANKING
 "Smacking does not cure children of bad habits. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night."

Publicity!

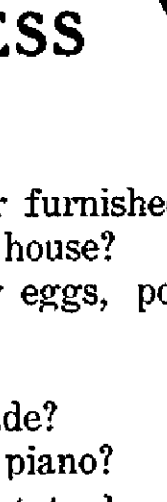

THE PRIMER OF SUCCESS

Do you want a position?
 Do you want a girl?
 Do you want to rent your furnished room?
 Do you want to sell your house?
 Do you want to sell your eggs, poultry or live
 Have you lost anything?
 Have you anything to trade?
 Do you want to sell your piano?

There are many who want to do one or the other of these things. Most of them don't know how to go about it. If they could only tell the people what they want they would be all right. If they could only let the people know without disclosing their identity that might be better still. If you want to buy, sell or secure any of the above, or if you want to trade anything, did it ever occur to you that the best thing in the world to do is to use the Classified Columns of the Mail.

Why do we give you this advice? To make business for ourselves? Certainly! To help you? Just as certainly! We are the medium between you and what you want. You just place a cent-a-word advertisement with us and we spread this advertisement before Five Thousand People Every Day. That is the market with which we bring you into touch. Isn't the advantage of being placed in touch with 5,000 people worth this insignificant sum?

Try it, and you will reap the benefit of your advertisement a thousand fold

Among the Theatres

THE PALACE-CHARLEROI.

Good photoplays at a nickel with the Pathe Weekly Bulletin was the repertoire at the Palace Theatre this week. The Pathe Weekly gave an interesting epitome of world important events, among which was a race between an aeroplane and motor boat. The aeroplane beat out the boat, and the remarkable feature was that the moving picture films were taken from the air craft, and showed in the picture the scenes below as viewed by the aviator. The largest oak tree in the world was shown at Fresno, California, which was the scene of an interesting arboral convention. Among the strong photoplay dramas are "The Prospector's Sweetheart," "The Redemption of Ben Furland," "The Slip," "The Senorita's Butterfly," "When Women Rule," "The Awakening of Margaret," and "The Fighting Dervishes." The latter was a Kalem film, taken by a traveling company in Egypt, and was a most interesting and instructive picture. Next Tuesday the Palace will put on a big three-reel feature, "The Orleans Coach." The reduction of the admission price to a nickel has had the effect of drawing still larger crowds to the Palace.

THE COYLE-CHARLEROI.

The prevailing high standard of excellence was maintained at the Coyle Theatre again this week in the daily and nightly exhibits of standard motion picture plays. The matinees afford an excellent opportunity

THE STAR-CHARLEROI.

Big two and three reel features, is the repertoire of the Star Theatre this week. The first of these began on Tuesday with "Gypsy Blood," a most romantic and realistic presentation of Gypsy life, which these mysterious nomads always suggest. Friday of this week witnesses "The Sewer," another big two reel picture full of human interest. For Saturday of this week Manager Tom B. Cowan has booked "The Four Dare Devils," one of the biggest circus features ever shown in motion pictures. This is a three reel film, and shows four acrobats in some of the greatest feats ever presented in the tented arena. These great features had the effect of drawing record crowds at the Star.

THE GRAND-PITTSBURGH.

Thais Magrane, the new leading lady of the Harry Davis Stock Players, will make her first stock bow before Pittsburgh playgoers at the Grand Opera House next week in the four-act play, "The Spendthrift," in which she was originally seen there during the season of 1910. It is particularly fitting that this clever young woman, who has already made for herself such a brilliant name in stock work, should make her first appearance in Pittsburgh in this drama of "The Spendthrift," for not only did she play it originally during its notable run at the Hudson Theatre, New York City, but she really created the role of its heroine when the piece was given its initial production on any stage by the Belasco Stock company in Los Angeles, Cal. This highly interesting play was written by Porter Emerson Brown, the gifted young author of that other successful play "A Fool There Was."

In a sense, the drama resembles the celebrated Henri Bernstein hit, "The Thief," in which Margaret Livingston starred, since its leading motive is that of a woman's love of finery and fashion and the seemingly criminal extent to which she apparently goes in order to satisfy her tastes and extravagance. Frances Ward, in this play of "The Spendthrift," finds out that the way of the transgressor is hard and in the end redeems herself in a noble manner. Its four acts take place in the town house of Ward, in Mrs. Ward's boudoir (where a thrilling scene takes place between the suspicious husband and his wife, as well as the other man in the case,) and in a cheap room in a New York Boarding House, where the real sunshine is finally found after all.

Robert Gleckler, who remains for the summer with the Davis players, will enact the deceived and late rudely awakened husband, Dennis Harris, Hal DeForest, Ralph Remley and many of the old favorites will be in the cast.

FACTS AND FICTION

Experiences of Charleroi People Are Easily Proven to be Facts.

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Charleroi is true. Read it and compare evidence many of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many more citizens of Charleroi will endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. William McBridge, 508 Lincoln avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family for several years. Our first experience with them took place while we were living in Beaver Falls and a member of our family was at that time suffering from dull pains in the small of the back, and other symptoms of kidney trouble. They proved of great benefit, and there was no return attack of the trouble for some time. About a month ago Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at Piper Bros. Drug Store and they proved as beneficial as before. Judging from our experience with Doan's

THE SACRAMENTO VALLEY IRRIGATION CO.

And—the butter-fat which she produces will bring from 4 to 6 cents more a pound.

—N. E. MULICK, formerly of Watertown, Wis.

Mr. Mulick was one of the most prominent breeders of Holstein-Friesian cattle in Wisconsin. He purchased one of our small farms and is stocking it with one of the finest herds of pure Holstein-Friesian cattle in the United States. He says: "The Sacramento Valley is an ideal home for the Holstein cow and I am sure that the dairy world will soon look to this valley for the world's record stock."

There is certainly a bright future for the practical dairyman in this valley. It is hardly possible to estimate the advantages of dairying in a country where green feed can be raised the year round, as compared with Wisconsin, where they have to stable their stock at least six months in the year.

It doesn't cost much to own one of our small farms—

Made Mockery of Marriage.
 A question as to the validity of a marriage which took place recently in Colombo, Ceylon, has arisen. The bride and bridegroom played a rather unusual practical joke at the ceremony, for the former dressed up as the bridegroom and the latter masqueraded in the woman's clothes, and the ceremony was quite through before the two people concerned were identified.

CHARLEROI MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Frank Nelson Succumbs at Monongahela Hospital
After Illness

Stricken by heart trouble when he was apparently recovering from a slight illness, Frank Nelson of 429 Shady avenue, Charleroi, a well known man, died suddenly Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela. He was 68 years of age and was retired from active work.

Mr. Nelson was taken to the hospital a week ago. He had showed so much improvement that he was sitting up Friday evening eating his supper. After finishing the meal he was talking with another patient when he suddenly dropped over dead.

There survives a daughter, Miss Lena Nelson of Tokio, Japan, and a son Frank K. Nelson of Monongahela.

LOCAL MENTION

Mrs. A. O. Davis has returned from a visit at Meadville with relatives.

Miss Anna Shafer left this morning for Brookville where she will visit friends for a couple of weeks and then visit Niagara Falls before she returns.

Word has been received here of the birth of a son to Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Doak, of Wellsburg, W. Va., formerly of Charleroi.

Mrs. Mary L. Stewart, field secretary of the Washington County Sunday School association, was a visitor in Charleroi Friday afternoon to arrange affairs for the forthcoming Sunday School convention.

O. S. Chalfant and son Paul of Washington were visitors here Friday with the former's sister, Mrs. J. H. Frye. The latter will remain for a few days' visit.

The sickness of Judge Taylor confined the hearing of cases to one court room, before Judge Melville, and the cases that have been tried so far have taken up considerable time, throwing the trial list behind schedule. Notwithstanding this fact, the cases listed in this county for trial are disposed of in much quicker time than in many other counties, where in some instances the courts are back two or three years or more.

The Washington county court has a record for keeping its trial list up to the minute, and cases put at issue a short time before the convening of a term are usually on that term's trial list. There will be more cases carried over this time than have been before for a long time.

Donors to Celebrate.

For the first time in eight years Donora will have a public Fourth of July celebration. The plan is to have a street parade in the morning, speeches, a ball game and sports in the afternoon and fireworks and dancing in the evening. The Chamber of Commerce is backing the project and committees have been appointed to make the arrangements.

PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

Best of Speakers Secured For Sunday School Meeting Here

Announcement was made today by the executive committee of the Washington County Sunday School Association through its field secretary, Mrs. Mary L. Stewart, of the program for the county convention to be held in Charleroi, June 20 and 21. Not only speakers of State, but also of national and international reputation are on the program. The word has gone out over Washington county that the convention will be the best and the biggest ever held, and the largest number of delegates that ever attended a previous convention is expected to be on hand. They will register at the First Christian church, while arrangements are being made by the county officers for the program to start.

Thursday morning's program will begin with the children's parade at 9:45 o'clock. Dr. J. W. Manon will be the chief marshal for this event. Mrs. C. C. Wright to work with him. Children of all ages to the number of 1,000 or more are expected to be in line. Rev. L. O. Brown, of Franklin will give a talk to the children following the parade. Convention business will be taken up and a social half hour held after 11:15.

Thursday afternoon an opening song service will be conducted by Prof. I. T. Daniel, of Charleroi and the address of welcome made by Burgess George W. Risbeck, or some person selected by him on behalf of the "Magic City," and Rev. J. E. Charles, pastor of the French Presbyterian church will make an address of welcome on behalf of the churches of Charleroi. The response will be by Rev. W. P. Aiken, of Canonsburg. Speakers Thursday afternoon will be Rev. J. B. Cavitt, of McDonald, W. D. Stem, a noted State Sunday school worker, and Rev. W. B. Smiley, D. D. of McKeesport. A teacher's training conference will be conducted by Rev. H. M. Evans, an organized Adult Bible class conference will be conducted by Wilhelm F. Alten, of Monongahela, the former at the convention tent and the latter at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church.

Two addresses will be made Thursday evening, in addition to the song and devotional services. These addresses will be made by W. D. Stem and Rev. C. L. E. Cartwright, Ph. D., a Methodist Episcopal minister of Pittsburg, with whom many Charleroi people are acquainted.

Friday morning's session will begin with a sunrise prayer meeting at 6 o'clock, and at 8:30 simultaneous conferences of the elementary divisions, the foreign work department, and the home department will be held. A business session will be held at the convention tent later in the morning, when reports will be heard. An elementary luncheon will also be

Buffalo Bill is here with his great Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East. The mammoth exhibition reached Charleroi from Butler early this morning and was at once transferred to the show grounds for the afternoon and evening performances to be given today at 2 and 8 p. m. The approaching closing of the career of Col. W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," as an active participant in dramatic work today marks his last appearance here. This does not mean the shelving of the interesting and long story of the Conquest of a Continent, in which the exploits and the characters of the last few decades of picture-que frontier days are presented in the Wild West section of the exhibition.

In these conjured fields of study, extending around the world, Col. Cody will continue in managerial direction in common action and supervision with his younger co-adjutor, Maj. Gordon W. Little, "Pawnee Bill."

The spectators' attention is called to the fact that every known seat in the saddle on the Indian barebacks to ever class and kind known to equestrianism, from the wild horse, or "bucker," of the plains to the most finished style of trained horse or the high hurdle jumping thoroughbred is presented.

The new spectacle entitled Pioneer Events in Frontier Days opens with a typical overland wagon train winding its way down the mountains with pioneers, their wives, children, saddie horses, mules, oxen, hogs, and other paraphernalia to begin life in the wilderness. Indians are seen tracking them, and when they have corralled the stock and settled for the night they are attacked, a fierce fight takes place, the wagons set on fire, the men and women flee for safety, and when temporary help comes from the stage coach, in a second they have unhitched their horses, turned them loose and the fight takes on fresh vigor. The Express boys en route fight the trouble, spurs to his pony and turns a back to the relief station.

There are sword exercises and drills by the different tribes and races, who also take part in the general military tourna-

FAST EXPRESS SAVED THROUGH BEING LATE

Down River Train Has Narrow Escape-Fireman of Southbound Passenger Train Finds Big Fish Plate on the Track

Only through the intervention of a kind Providence was a serious railroad wreck prevented at Dunlevy Friday, that might have resulted in the death of a large number. At Dunlevy a big fish plate of iron was found on the northbound track by the firemen of train No. 154, which passed through Charleroi at about its usual time, 12:32. It so happened that the down river train was running ten minutes late, this fact alone saving it from a serious wreck.

When the fireman of the southbound train discovered the big fish plate on the track of the northbound train, the train was stopped long enough to notify the telegraph operator at the tower near Dunlevy.

CONTRACT AWARDED TO BUILD SCHOOL

The contract for the building of the new Granville school building near California was awarded last week to John R. Powell's Sons, contractors of California. Many bids have been received covering a considerable range but the California company with a bid of $11,849 was well below the nearest competitor.

REPRODUCE FRENCH PLAY AT NORMAL

The French class of the Normal and alumni members composing the Graduate French Club of the California Normal school will give their annual play on the Normal campus this evening at 7:30. This year Victor Hugo's tragedy, "Hernani" will be the production. About forty characters will be represented. Helen Proelochs is stage manager.

PARADE AIDES ARE SELECTED

Capt. John K. Hein, who has been appointed chief marshal for the men's parade to take place as one of the chief features of the Washington County Sunday School convention to be held in Charleroi June 20 and 21, has selected his parade aides and appointed them to their duties. The parade officials will be as follows: Capt. J. K. Hein, chief marshal, Dr. Edwin McKay, chief lieutenant, Charles Wallgren, standard bearer; aides, R. Dale Jolliffe, C. S. McKean, Henry Acker, Charles O. Frye.

Miss Leila Taylor spent this morning in Donora.

Common Pleas Calendar Contains Much Work for Court

WILL CONTINUE SOME PRODUCTION MARKS EPOCH

Dante's Inferno New Departure in the Moving Picture World

The indications are that a large number of cases listed for this term of common pleas court at Washington will have to be continued to the November term. The case listed for Monday of this week are not yet entirely disposed of. Some have been continued or settled, and some are yet to be tried. For the coming week there remain about 23 cases, so that it will be impossible to clear up the list this term.

Cases not reached on this week's trial list will be carried over until next week, and those not reached next week will go over to the November term. It is not likely that cases will be carried over into the fourth week, as that would encroach on argument and equity court. There is not much time now until the annual bar vacation. There is no August term of common pleas court, so that cases continued this term go over until November.

One of the crying economic necessities of the day is that of conserving the public, stopping the inordi-
nate drain upon society in general
for the promotion and maintenance
of the various schemes and projects
in which individuals, societies, fraternities and even churches are interested. We have had much agitation
and something of a movement for the conservation of public resources, such as the preservation of the forests, the water privileges, the mineral deposits and various other things.
But the conservation of the public
itself from being continually bled
has never yet apparently been considered as a public necessity.

The one thing needful seems to
be a movement whereby the polite
system of brigandage that is now so universally practiced in every community will be abolished. Contributing to every project of a semi-public
nature that is held or promoted has
other precious effects besides a
waste of private resources. Valuable time is lost in vain entertainments, rest and pleasure is abridged and the real joy of living is never attained.
What should every individual be expected to contribute to a project in
which is gained by calling upon outsiders for such aid as the
recipients must suffer the same polite blackmail in turn later on. The whole practice is in effect a begging
one—asking for a contribution with
the tacit understanding that a return contribution will be given for
the one solicited, and which is invariably exacted. It is like the treating evil, where one gets about
as much as he gives, with a sur-
feit most of the time of what he doesn't want.

When each member of society

learns to respect the rights of his
neighbor and does not try to hold
him up to help pay for personal
interests and each pays for what he wants and is interested in, a great
saving of private and personal resources will have been effected. This
much as it benefits society individually.

THE PROMISE OF REST.

As a rule the people of America
take less rest than any other people
under the sun, says the New York
Independent. More's the pity, for rest not only adds to the pleasure of
living and generates energy, but it prolongs life. Almost everybody in this country is forever in a rush and a hurry. Charles Dickens said that Americans go to dinner at the same gait at which other people travel to
a fire.

The promise of rest runs through
the Bible like a thread of gold. The first time the word "rest" occurs in the Bible is in the first chapter of Genesis: "And on the seventh day God ended his work which He had made: and He rested on the seventh day from all his work which He had made. And God blessed the seventh day, and said: 'For in it I have rested from all my work which God created and made.'"

And from that passage to almost
the last verse of the Book of Revelation the word "rest" is constantly
occurring. The Twenty-third is the most beautiful of all the psalms of David. The most beautiful verse in
that psalm is the second:

"He maketh me to lie down in
green pastures: He leadeth me be-
side the still waters."

Of all the promises which the Savior made in his sermons and conversations one of the most forcible
was the one contained in the twenty-
eighth verse of the eleventh chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew:

"Come unto me all ye that labor
and are heavy laden, and I will give
you rest."

"He follows that up with another promise in the twenty-ninth verse of
the same chapter:

"And ye shall find rest unto your
souls."

It is really a great pity that everybody cannot rest periodically. They
would last longer and accomplish
more and would derive more pleasure out of existence. Most people rest
on the Christian Sunday, or Lord's
day, which has taken the place among Christians of the Jewish Sabbath,
but few even reflect that the seventh
day of rest is founded upon a great
philosophical principle.

"Buffalo Bill's appearance here to-
day is perhaps the last appearance
in the wild west business of one who participated in actual Indian warfare on the plains, and who hunted
and shot buffaloes by hundreds when
these vast herds roamed the prairie,"
said a middle aged valley resident
this morning. "I was born in England but I came to the western part of this state with my parents, who
emigrated to this country when I was 10 years old. That was 40 years ago, and some of the scenes depicted by Buffalo Bill's show were then being enacted in the west."

"I remember with amusement how
my brother got carried away with
the stirring adventures in the blood
and thunder literature of that day,
in the Beadle and Munroe dime
novels, which constituted the cheap
reading matter of that time. Fresh
from England, where there was no hint of the kind, my brother used to pour over the novels he bought by
the light of the oil lamp as we sat around the table at an evening. He would get so excited that off-time he would clench his hands and make
gestures, in a strong state of mental
excitement."

"My father, a Yorkshireman who
never did master the art of using his pipe, as he sat smoking his pipe in the family circle, would
bring my brother back to earth with
the terse remark:

"'Wot the bloody 'ell you thing-
ing of now?'"

"I never see moving pictures of Indian shows or wild west exhibitions without thinking of my older
brother's early infatuation and how
my father used to ruthlessly quash
his youthful aspirations in that line."

"One of the annoyances of a person in business is the everlasting
touch of borrowers, who are in reality out and out panhandlers," said
a Charleroi business man. "The
touches are usually from persons you
know, who deal at your place of
business occasionally, and for that
reason think they have you dead to
rights when they ask you for a loan,
or contribution, rather, for it is never
paid back. Men and youths drop in between pay days and ask for the
loan of a dollar, a half, or a quarter.
If you refuse, they will flare up and
buying at your store, and declare
they'll never return. I've lost hundreds of dollars in that way during
the 20 years or more I've been in business in Charleroi. I used to be easy, but now I'm through. The loss of a panhandler's trade I figure, will
not recompense one for all the touches you get, if once you let such a
patron get in on you."

"Not long ago a man came in who
buys some things occasionally at my
store and declared he was starving—
was actually in need of something
to eat. I saw at once that he was
a drink."

"All right," I said, 'come with me.
I was just starting for the restaurant myself when you came in. Come along, and I'll get you something to
eat.'"

"The man demurred, but could not
well refuse, so I steered him to a lunch counter and ordered a couple
of bowls of soup. It was like so
much medicine to him, and he worked
it down laboriously, a spoonful at a time. He wanted a drink so badly
that he could not eat."

"Have another," said I as he finally emptied his bowl, but he declined, saying that he was not really starving as he thought he was, and that he was not feeling well. I really enjoyed his discomfiture, as
he had struck me before."

"Only a day or two ago a neighbor was approached by a man who requested the loan of a dollar."

"'Funny isn't it?' said the neigh-
bor. 'I was just going to ask you to lend me two dollars, when I saw you coming. Guess things that should be broke at once.'"

Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Among the Theatres

THE PALACE-CHARLEROI

Good photoplays at a nickel with the Pathé Weekly Bulletin was the repertoire at the Palace Theatre this week. The Pathé Weekly gave an interesting epitome of world important events, among which was a race between an aeroplane and motor boat. The aeroplane beat out the boat, and the remarkable feature was that the moving picture films were taken from the air craft, and showed in the picture the scenes below as viewed by the aviator. The largest oak tree in the world was shown at Fresno, California, which was the scene of an interesting arboral convention. Among the strong photoplay dramas were "The Prospector's Sweetheart," "The Redemption of Ben Furland," "The Ship," "The Senorita's Butterfly," "When Women Rule," "The Awakening of Margaret," and "The Fighting Dervishes." The latter was a Kalem film, taken by a traveling company in Egypt, and was a most interesting and instructive picture. Next Tuesday the Palace will put on a big three-reel feature, "The Orleans Coach." The reduction of the admission price to a nickel has had the effect of drawing still larger crowds to the Palace.

for rest by weary shoppers and out of town visitors, who have learned to profit by the opportunity. Some of the good plays this week were "For the Good of All," "A Generous Pardon," "The Land of Forgetfulness," "The District Attorney's Conscience," "Love That Never Fails," and "The Glory of Light." As will be seen by these titles, the type of romantic and sentimental plays that grip the human heart were well represented. For next week Manager R. S. Coyle announces a big five reel feature which will be shown three days—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This is "Dante's Inferno," with Mt. Vesuvius in active operation as the stage setting for the infernal regions. This great film is another of the latest triumphs of the motion picture idea, and exemplifies Dante's Divine Comedy in a manner never before thought of.

THE STAR-CHARLEROI

Big two and three reel features in the repertoire of the Star Theatre this week. The first of these began on Tuesday with "Gypsy Blood," a most romantic and realistic presentation of Gypsy life, which these mysterious nomads always suggest. Friday of this week witnesses "The Sewer," another big two reel picture full of human interest. For Saturday of this week Manager Tom B. Cowan has booked "The Four Dared Devils," one of the biggest circus features ever shown in motion pictures. This is a three reel film, and shows four acrobats in some of the greatest feats ever presented in the tented arena. These great features had the effect of drawing record crowds at the Star.

THR GRAND-PITTSBURG

Thais Magrane, the new leading lady of the Harry Davis Stock Players, will make her first stock bow before Pittsburgh playgoers at the Grand Opera House next week in the four-act play, "The Spendthrift," in which she was originally seen there during the season of 1910. It is particularly fitting that this clever young woman, who has already made for herself such a brilliant name in stock work, should make her first appearance in Pittsburgh in this drama of "The Spendthrift," for not only did she play it originally during its notable run at the Hudson Theatre, New York City, but she really created the role of its heroine when the piece was given its initial production on any stage by the Belasco Stock company in Los Angeles, Cal. This highly interesting play was written by Porter Emerson Brown, the gifted young author of that other successful play "A Fool There Was."

In a sense, the drama resembles the celebrated Henri Bernstein hit, "The Thief," in which Margaret Livingston starred, since its leading motive is that of a woman's love of finery and fashion and the seemingly criminal extent to which she apparently goes in order to satisfy her tastes and extravagance. Frances Ward, in this play of "The Spendthrift," finds out that the way of the transgressor is hard and in the end redeems herself in a noble manner. Its four acts take place in the town house of Ward, in Mrs. Ward's boudoir (where a thrilling scene takes place between the suspicious husband and his wife, as well as the other man in the case) and in a cheap room in a New York Boarding House, where the real sunshine is finally found after all.

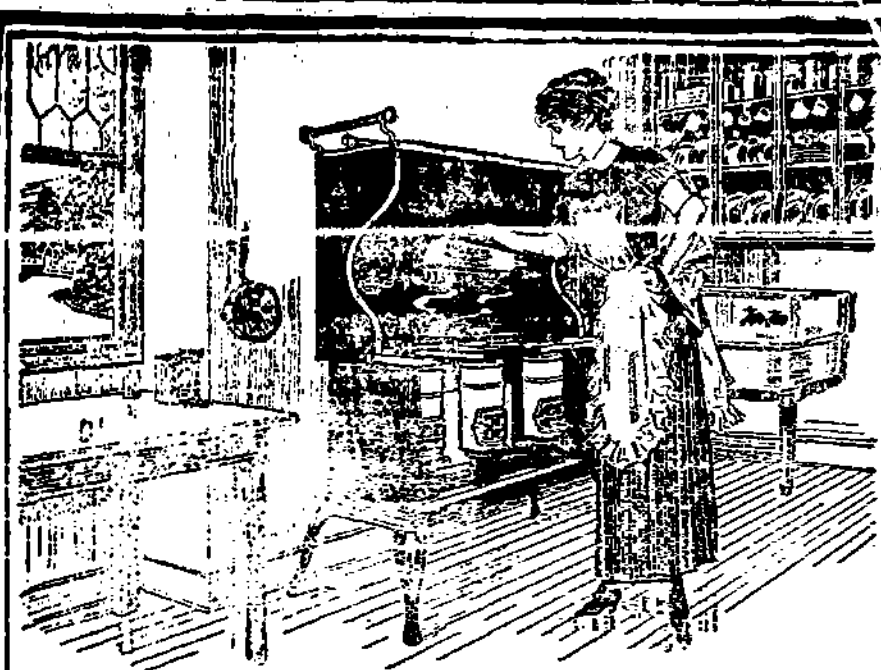

Robert Gleckler, who remains for the summer with the Davis players, will enact the deceived and late rudely awakened husband. Dennis Harris, Hal DeForest, Ralph Remley and many of the old favorites will be in the cast.

FACTS AND FICTION

Experiences of Charleroi People Are Easily Proven to be Facts.

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Charleroi is true. Read it and compare evidence many of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many more citizens of Charleroi will endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. William McBridge, 508 Lincoln avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family for several years. Our first experience with them took place while we were living in Beaver Falls and a member of our family was at that time suffering from dull pains in the small of the back, and other symptoms of kidney trouble. They proved of great benefit and there was no return attack of the trouble for some time. About a month ago Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at Piper Bros. Drug Store and they proved as beneficial as before. Judging from our experience with Doan's

Made Mockery of Marriage. A question as to the validity of a marriage which took place recently in Colombo, Ceylon, has arisen. The bride and bridegroom played a rather unusual practical joke at the ceremony, for the former dressed up as the bridegroom and the latter masqueraded in the woman's clothes, and the ceremony was quite through before the two people concerned were identified.

Publicity!

THE PRIMER OF SUCCESS

Do you want a position?
 Do you want a girl?
 Do you want to rent your furnished room?
 Do you want to sell your house?
 Do you want to sell your eggs, poultry or live stock?
 Have you lost anything?
 Have you anything to trade?
 Do you want to sell your piano?

There are many who want to do one or the other of these things. Most of them don't know how to go about it. If they could only tell the people what they want they would be all right. If they could only let the people know without disclosing their identity that might be better still.

If you want to buy, sell or secure any of the above, or if you want to trade anything, did it ever occur to you that the best thing in the world to do is to use the Classified Columns of the Mail.

Why do we give you this advice? To make business for ourselves? Certainly! To help you? Just as certainly! We are the medium between you and what you want. You just place a cent-a-word advertisement with us and we spread this advertisement before Five Thousand People Every Day. That is the market with which we bring you into touch. Isn't the advantage of being placed in touch with 5,000 people worth this insignificant sum?

Try it, and you will reap the benefit of your advertisement a thousand fold

That Cow
 will produce 100 pounds of milk 60% cheaper on one of our small farms in the famous Sacramento Valley, California, than she will in any of the Eastern dairy States.
And—
 the butter-fat which she produces will bring from 4 to 6 cents more a pound.
 —N. E. MULICK, formerly of Watertown, Wis.

Mr. Mulick was one of the most prominent breeders of Holstein-Friesian cattle in Wisconsin. He purchased one of our small farms and is stocking it with one of the finest herds of pure Holstein-Friesian cattle in the United States. He says: "The Sacramento Valley is an ideal home for the Holstein cow and I am sure that the dairy world will soon look to this valley for the world's record stock."

There is certainly a bright future for the practical dairymen in this valley. It is hardly possible to estimate the advantages of dairying in a country where green feed can be raised the year round, as compared with Wisconsin, where they have to stable their stock at least six months in the year.

It doesn't cost much to own one of our small farms—
$15 DOWN THAT'S ALL $11 A YEAR THAT'S EASY

You may have from 20 to 80 acres in this great project. $15 an acre is all it costs now, pay the balance in ten yearly payments.

The Sacramento Valley Irrigation Co. will give you every co-operation possible; expert dairymen are in its employ to give you free advice. If you want to meet opportunity face to face send for our literature. A visit to our farms will show that

Frank Nelson Succumbs at Monongahela Hospital After Illness

Stricken by heart trouble when he was apparently recovering from a slight illness, Frank Nelson of 429 Shady avenue, Charleroi, a well known man, died suddenly Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela. He was 68 years of age and was retired from active work.

Mr. Nelson was taken to the hospital a week ago. He had showed so much improvement that he was sitting up Friday evening eating his supper. After finishing the meal he was talking with another patient when he suddenly dropped over dead.

There survives a daughter, Miss son Frank K. Nelson of Monongahela.

LOCAL MENTION

Mrs. A. O. Davis has returned from a visit at Meadville with relatives.

Miss Anna Shafer left this morning for Brookville where she will visit friends for a couple of weeks and then visit Niagara Falls before she returns.

Word has been received here of the birth of a son to Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Doak of Wellsburg, W. Va. formerly of Charleroi.

Mrs. Mary L. Stewart, field secretary of the Washington County Sunday School association, was a visitor in Charleroi Friday afternoon to arrange affairs for the forthcoming Sunday School convention. O. S. Chalfant and son Paul of Washington were visitors here Friday with the former's sister, Mrs. J. H. Frye. The latter will remain for a few days' visit.

The sickness of Judge Taylor confined the hearing of cases to one court room, before Judge McIlvaine, and the cases that have been tried so far have taken up considerable time, throwing the trial list behind schedule. Notwithstanding this fact, the cases listed in this county for trial are disposed of in much quicker time than in many other counties, where in some instances the courts are back two or three years or more.

The Washington county court has a record for keeping its trial list up to the minute, and cases put at issue a short time before the convening of a term are usually on that term's trial list. There will be more cases carried over this time than have been before for a long time.

Donora to Celebrate.

For the first time in eight years Donora will have a public Fourth of July celebration. The plan is to have a street parade in the morning, speeches, a ball game and sports in the afternoon and fireworks and dancing in the evening. The Chamber of Commerce is backing the project and committees have been appointed to make the arrangements.

CHRISTIANS BEAT THE EPISCOPALS

The Christians and Episcopalians played a good game Friday night at the ball lot and got it done without rolling up any big league scores. In six and a half innings the former won by the score of three to one. Phillips pitched good ball for the Christians and kept the seven hits of the opposing sluggers well scattered.

Wonderful Sarah Bernhardt. Sarah Bernhardt often has said it is her enthusiasm and continued interest in life and work to which she ascribes her youthful appearance. Now she has a new enthusiasm—the moving pictures. For years she refused to pose before the moving picture camera. Then she gave her consent and acted "Camille" before a long string of film recently in Paris. She is hardly again her eagerness to see the finished pictures, and when they were shown to her she insisted the whole play be repeated several times. Edmond Rostand accompanied her to the exhibition and when she had delightedly watched the film run off several times she turned to him with all the enthusiasm of a chorus girl, saying "Now, what next is there for me to do?"

German Courtesy.

The German has not only been taught the outer courtesies, but he has a kindness of heart and instinctive consideration for others which make his formalities of real value. The man who appears to have a fund of "small change and valueless attentions" is the same man who will go miles out of his way to do you a favor tomorrow.

Only a few weeks ago I was traveling in the same train with a young lieutenant, whose smooth and graceful manners had more than once aroused my suspicion. He was got up in his newest and finest uniform, he had on spotless white kid gloves, he looked, in fact, the very dandy.

The train was very full, and presently a peasant fellow came in with his basket of vegetables, and looked about helplessly, treading on everybody's toes in the meantime. I looked on my military neighbor and waited for the storm. The dandy rose, saluted gravely, offered the weary peasant his seat, and went and stood outside. This is only one example of the many I will not cite for fear of being unnecessarily tiresome. I only assert that foreigners can enjoy German courtesy—it is genuine.—From "My German Year."

The Powdering Closet.

When capricious fashion ruled that ladies should wear only white hair—the color supplied by nature being of no importance—the operation of putting on the powder made special arrangements necessary. These took the form of a special room or cabinet, and in every house of any pretension a small chamber was set aside for the exclusive use of powdering the hair. A curtain divided in the middle, a powdering stand to hold the bowl of powder, and possibly a stool, were all that the closet contained, and through this curtain the lady whose head was to be powdered protruded her head, the maid standing on the other side and "throwing" the powder at her head by means of a powder puff. To preserve the eyes and complexion a mask was held to the face.

Unfortunately no illustration of a "powdering closet" seems to have been preserved.

Alleged Epigram.

"Will you please put in your paper an epigram I have just thought up?" asked a friend of ours who happened to be a minister of the Gospel. "We will sure," we responded, not even imposing any of the usual conditions. "Well, here it is. I have been around with a subscription paper for the benefit of a few widows and orphans and such. I won't bore you with an account of the way this paper was received by some of the members of the church and state; I just want to tell you what inspired this epigram." "Shoot it!" we challenged. "This is it: Some folks are so busy being good themselves that they have no time to be good to others." It is an epigram, isn't it?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
